A clear glass bottle, possibly a perfume or medicine bottle, is centered against a vibrant red, textured background. The bottle has a central vertical neck and two horizontal arms extending from the main body. A small, bulbous glass stopper is attached to the left arm. A rectangular label with a black border is affixed to the central neck. The label contains text in German. The word 'PRESSLER' is prominently displayed in large, blue, sans-serif capital letters. Above it, 'Fabrikat' is written in smaller black letters, and below it, 'Cursdorf Thür. Wald' is written in smaller black letters. The bottle is empty and shows some reflections on its surface.
